Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

A man writes in to a newspaper making this suggestion to the two great political parties: "Why all this talk about building a platform for either party? Why not take the Democratic platform on which President Roosevelt was elected? Why build a platform when you can get one already built which has never been used?"

Ordering General Hagood to his home "to await orders" is probably one of those political mistakes that are known as boomerangs. Military officers are not supposed to speak their minds in public on matters political, but General Hagood had obtained permission from the Chief of Staff in testifying before a House committee, to say whatever he had to say whether relating to facts or to his own personal opinion. He called WPA money "stage money" and thereby offended the President and the political hierarchy. While his punishment of involuntary retirement to his home is mild enough as compared to what happens to such outspoken gentlemen in Italy or Germany, it is more than sufficient to stir Americans to righteous indignation. It is noteworthy that those who are protesting most vociferously in Congress are the Democratic members. We shall get well acquainted with General Hagood in the campaign this summer. Free speech is still one our fundamental rights.

Governor Talmadge of Georgia is something of a "direct action" protagonist. He fired the state financial chief, who, in retaliation sprung the time lock on the state treasury vault. The governor with blow torch in hand set out to open it forthwith. A great many Americans will admire this example of rugged individualism. But to us it sets another bad example of "to hell with the law" when it interferes with private ambitions and activities. Such a man as Talmadge is worth more than a dozen third international captains to communism. Mr. Insull was another inciter to communism in a big way. A jury exonerated him of defrauding thousands of people of millions of dollars. Sentimental America heaved a sigh of relief when he was turned loose. "Poor old man. They chased him around and around the world and caused him a great deal of mental anguish."

Rose Wilder Lane, one of Fremont Older's journalistic children, in a first page article entitled "Credo" in the Saturday Evening Post, declares in effect, that the reason the United States has grown so great, so wealthy and so free, is that we have always practiced a kind of legalized anarchy. Our big men, our heroes, for more than 150 years have been the chaps who have seen what they wanted and have taken it. They have used the law or flouted it, made the law to fit their particular purposes, gambled for high stakes and lost or won. Meantime as the result of our altruism, with no planning, no government ordering, no coordinated action, we have raised the standard of living of the common man to the highest plane ever known to civilization, made science do practically all of our work. Average use of telephone, automobiles, electricity and all material things that raise standards, is the highest in the world.

Rose Wilder Lane in her first sentence acknowledges that seventeen years ago she was a communist. But she went to Russia, found the people unhappy and discontented with their collectivist government. Every thing they did, eating, sleeping, or mating, was prescribed in rules promulgated in faraway Moscow. Violation of the rules was elevated to treason, variously graded, rigorously punished. Mrs. Lane gave up communism and traveled in Italy, Germany and through Europe. She found the same general condition. The law in infinite detail reached into the intimate lives of every human being and regulated them, kept them in their places, the spot and station to which they were born. She concludes that the enlightened anarchy under which we live is the best government, in the long run, for the common people.

Of course this writer does not agree that we live under conditions that remotely approach anarchy. Mrs. Lane uses the word loosely and mischieviously. But we have coined such aphorisms, as "You can't convict a million dollars in this country", which would indicate a partial failure to make the law function, a tendency toward anarchy. But after all the millionaire who escapes justice completely is an exception. We remember Mr. Sinclair spent a good many days in jail for contempt. Mr. Fall, a tool of millionaires, went to jail for a long period. Mr. Doheny had to spend vast sums to keep out of jail. We admit that our system failed to mete out equal punishment for the same crime in this case. But in time we hope for improvement, and work for it, in the administration of the law. And that hope and that striving is only open to nation of free men.

Miss Frances L. Collier, who has been doing drafting work for the Newmont mining interests in this section, left Nevada City Wednesday for San Francisco where she will be engaged in map work for the company for a time.

SHERIFF GOES TO IDAHO FOR ALLEGED THUGS

William Kerby and Bernard Emch who were arrested in Truckee on Monday night by Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolly for stealing an automobile in Sacramento were taken to Sacramento Tuesday by Sheriff Tobiassen.

Sheriff Tobiassen and his brother Deputy Sheriff, Theodore Tobiassen took the Shasta Limited from Sacramento Tuesday night, enroute to Wallace, Idaho, where they will take Al Hooper and Cecil Kaegle into custody and bring them to Nevada City to face a charge of robbery.

Kaegle and Hooper allegedly forcibly took $30 in currency from Deputy Sheriff T. A. Tobiassen at the Gold Nugget Inn when he attempted to quiet them during a disturbance. The deputy sheriff was slugged and the $30 was taken from him when he opened his wallet to exhibit his authority as an officer.

Sheriff Tobiassen received a telegram from George P. Mix, lieutenant governor of Idaho stating that he had granted a warrant of extradition for the two men.

FIREMEN ENJOY ANNUAL FEAST IN FIRE HOUSE

Pennsylvania Engine Company of the Nevada City Fire Department enjoyed a feast in No. 2 Fire House Wednesday evening, Herbert Hallett and James Penrose headed a committee that gave a turkey and raviola dinner.

After dinner Lloyd Dudley, secretary of the Board of Fire Delegates, on behalf of the members surprised Elza Kilroy by presenting him with a handsome pen and pencil set as a remembrance for his faithful and efficient service as secretary of the company for over ten years. He turned in his resignation several weeks ago.

Sargeant D. C. Douglass, of the Los Angeles police department "Foreign Legion" was a guest and gave a brief talk which was enjoyed.

PEACE OFFICERS ARE ORGANIZING

The second meeting of the Nevada County Peace Officers Organization will take place Friday March 13. It is expected the meeting will be held at the California Highway Patrol office on Hills Flat.

Temporary organizing chairman Captain J. E. Blake of the California Highway Patrol will have as organizing secretary Mr. Russell B. Farley, board of equalization agent, of Nevada City.

This organization is to be planned along lines of peace officers associations in other counties. The aim of the members will be to detect and prevent crime through cooperation in a sensible and economical method.

Peace officers of Nevada county elegible for the association are: Deputy Sheriff Carl Larson, Nevada City; Nevada City Chief of Police Garfield Robson; Game Warden Earl Hiscox; Fire Warden William F. Sharp, of Nevada City; Deputy Sheriff William Woods, Grass Valley; John Fontz, Grass Valley Chief of Police; A. J. Haas; Grass Valley City Officer William Fraser; Desk Sargeant E. K. Smart of the California Highway Patrol; Officer George Hammill of the California Highway Patrol.

GIFT IS PRESENTED TO DEPUTY GRAND MATRON

Members and officers of Evangeline Chapter, O. E. S., of Nevada City entertained their Deputy Grand Matron Gladys Collins, who came up from Sacramento for her official visit Tuesday evening. She praised the Matron, Miss Katie Eddy, and staff of officers for their excellent work. In exemplifying the work of the order Mrs. Frank Davies and Mrs. Mary German acted as candidates.

The decorative scheme yellow, gold and green, smilax, jonquils and shamrock, was in keeping with St. Patrick's Day. Star point officers carried French bouquets, the color of their degree, with rich green shamrock leaves enclosing the dainty flowers. Mrs. Katherine Celio sweetly sang an old Irish ballad as a remembrance was presented the visiting officer. Mrs. Bernice Penrose presented the gift a crystal glass vase which was enclosed in white decorated with a gold harp and green shamrocks, expressing the sentiment, the harp a symbol of golden hours spent together, the shamrock sweet memories ever green.

The tables and banquet room were decorated with green candlabra, golden jonquils and green favors. Mrs. Lester Gregory as chairman of the refreshment committee served dainty refreshments. Many visitors were present for the evening.

EDW. C. URENS ARE HOME FROM NEW YORK TRIP

After an absence of several weeks Mr. and Mrs. Edw. C. Uren returned home Tuesday and greeted their many friends in Nevada City. They left for New York last December 17 where Mr. Uren was called on business pertaining to mining, and returned March third, having had a most delightful trip. Both enjoyed New York City.

They made several trips to places of interest among them being a trip to West Point with Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Searls visiting Warren Chapman, who entered the academy last fall, and two day trip to Boston. It was stormy while in Boston, but they saw many interesting sights of note among them being Paul Revere's home; and old North Church, where the signal lanterns were hung for Revere's famous ride.

Mr. and Mrs. Uren met many western people whom they knew while in New York. Two weeks were spent in coming home by the southern route.

As guests of Mrs. H. L. Englebright Mr. and Mrs. Uren enjoyed tea given by Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House. With Mrs. Englebright Mrs. Uren also attended a luncheon of the 73rd Congressional Club, and the next day they were present for a tea by the 69th Congressional Club in honor of Mrs. Roosevelt. They met and shook hands with Speaker of the House Joseph Byrnes, and attended a session of Congress. Many interesting and historic spots were visited also.

Mr. and Mrs. Uren arrived in New Orleans February 25th in time for the Mardi Gras, the famous celebration of that city that ushers in Lent. It was an immense and gorgeous affair. The floats were gorgeous in color and beautiful and impressive in artistry.

They were glad to return to California. On the trip from Los Angeles to Nevada City spring flowers and green fields were a beautiful and welcome sight.

WOMAN IS FINED $100 FOR SELLING LIQUOR TO BOY

Mrs. Nellie Martin, on Monday arrested at Chat's Place adjacent to Memorial park Monday for selling liquor to a young boy, changed her plea of not guilty Tuesday and paid a fine of $100. Sheriff Carl Tobiassen, and Russell B. Farley, inspector for the State Board of Equalization arrested Mrs. Martin Sunday night when they found her in the act of serving liquor over the counter to a boy seventeen years old.

AWAITING PLACER MINING IS 194 MILLION YARDS

Construction of four dams in northern California with federal funds promises to give a definite impetus to hydraulic gold mining activities in that part of the state, according to Walter W. Bradley, California State Mineralogist.

Mr. Bradley stated that it was expected that 194,000,000 cubic yards of gold bearing gravel could be mined over the next 20 year period as soon as the proper storage facilities had been provided by dams on the Yuba, Bear, and American rivers. Under court decision passed in 1884 and effective since then, hydraulic mining for the last 50 years has been forbidden on these three rivers, because debris from the mining operations choked up the river channels, causing overflow of agricultural lands and difficulty in maintaining navigable depths in the Sacramento river.

Since 1893 it has been legal to conduct hydraulic mining of gold-bearing gravels behind dams built under the California Debris Commission's permit and supervision. About 23,500,000 cubic yards of gravel has been mined under license issued by the commission since 1893 for companies and individuals operating along these three rivers, but the potential production under the new government plan is nine times as great.

Under an amendment to the Rivers and Harbors Bill passed in August, 1935, $6,945,000 has been made available by Congress to build the four hydraulic mining dams. Mr. Bradley declared, the mine owners will have to organize into districts to condemn rights of way by which to flow water to their mines and the debris to the storage basin. The mines storing their debris behind these dams will pay a tax for each cubic yard mined. The tax will be based on the final cost of the dams and it is expected that the entire project can thus be made self-liquidating within the 20-year period for which operations are projected.

At present, in addition to several dams built and maintained by individual mining companies, two dams built for power and irrigation purposes on the Yuba and Bear rivers are also being used for storage of mine debris. The Bullard's Bar dam, owned by a power company, has a capacity for 40,000,000 cubic yards of gravel but only about 1,650,000 cubic yards has actually been stored so far. The present owners charge two cents per cubic yard for storage. The Combe dam with a capacity for about 15,000,000 cubic yards has so far been used to store 600,000 cubic yards, Mr. Bradley declared.

The federal program means not only the employment of many thousands of men directly in hydraulic mining, but also the rehabilitation of towns and districts long dormant. Mr. Bradley predicted. All three of the rivers affected flow into the Sacramento Valley and gold mining activity on them began as early as 1853.

HEART ATTACK BRINGS DEATH TO VISITOR HERE

Thomas J. Beaver, aged 59 years, who had resided in Grass Valley about four years, while in Nevada City Wednesday afternoon, was suddenly stricken with a heart attack as he walked down Sacramento street. He felt faint and stepped into the Miners Rooming and Boarding House. Noting the man was ill Mr. Barach gave Mr. Beaver a glass of sherry wine and he was placed on a pillow and quilt on a bench to rest. Chief of Police Garfield Robson was called and he stated he thought the man would soon be alright. In a short time he suffered another attack and the officer was called and he summoned Dr. A. H. Tickell who pronounced the man dead when he arrived.

Coroner L. R. Jefford was called and removed the body to his mortuary firm in Grass Valley. The remains were prepared for burial by the firm and shipped to the family home in Lemoore, Kings county, on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Beaver was a native of Hanford, Kings county. Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Beaver, three sisters and a brother, who reside in Los Angeles and Alameda.

SEVEN TWINS TO BOW AT P. T. A. ENTERTAINMENT

The grammar school P. T. A. has arranged for an interesting and novel program at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Washington grammar school when seven twins are to delight the audience as each child gives a history of himself. The children are, Betty and Bill Norton, Ralph and Raymond Brown, Roy and Lloyd Dunlap, Robert and Roberta Pearce, Leland and Warren Smith, Billy and Milly Usrey, Boyd and Floyd Stortvoen.

Mr. H. I. Hicker of the Vocational Rehabilitation Bureau, State Department of Education, is to talk on "Educational Opportunities for Handicapped Children." His work deals with mental, social and physical phases of education.

VAN LOBEN SELS ENTERS MINING BUSINESS AGAIN

Mr. C. C. Van Loben Sels, who formerly operated the Murchie mine east of Nevada City and sold the property to the Newmont Company has again entered the Nevada county mining field by taking over the Sneath and Clay mine ground southeast of Nevada City.

The 400 foot shaft is to be unwatered and sampled to obtain some idea of the location and size of the ledges that produced thousands of dollars in the past. Clearing of brush, reopening the drainage ditch, and placing old equipment in condition is progressing at a rapid rate under supervision of Engineer B. L. Eastman. Six men are employed in this work.

The property was discovered by the late Edlin Sneath and G. Clay. Dr. A. H. Tickell of Nevada City acquired the property some time ago.

SCOUT PARAPHERNALIA MISSING; HELP ASKED

George Schrader, scout master, finds that some of the paraphernalia belonging to Nevada City's troop No. 6, has been mislaid, and asks that anyone who knows where it is will kindly advise him.

The scouts meet with Mr. Schrader every Thursday night in Armory hall. The troop committee of which Dr. C. W. Chapman is chairman, announces that a court of honor will be convened toward the end of the month. The building committee met recently and renewed efforts will be made to build a scout hall in Pioneers park this spring with the expectation of completing it this summer.

PENRYN SCOUTS WIN TOP PLACE

Penryn Troop No. 9 sprang a surprise and carried off first place in the 10th annual scout rally at Roseville last Saturday night. Grass Valley Troop 2 and 4 each had won first place once and Loomis troop No. 12 had placed first five times. On this account Loomis had been favored to win. Scoutmaster Phil Leak and his troop of Penryn had worked long and hard to dethrone Loomis. Leak is a former scout of the Loomis troop.

No records were set this year. In wall scaling Auburn No. 19 finished in 12 1-5 seconds just 3-5 of a second short of a new record. Loomis No. 12 was first in the exhibits with a wide variety of airplanes, radio, and handicraft including split wood fans and wood carving

Ed Naramore of Penryn placed first in second class fire by friction. Time 19 1-2 seconds and Ed Leak of Loomis caught fire by the same method for first class scouts in 15 3-5 seconds. G. Uyeda, second class and W. Sasaki, tenderfott, both of Loomis won their respective knot tying events

Troop No 19 of Auburn won the 62 letter semaphore signaling message event in one minute and 5 seconds making only one error. Troop No. 9 Penryn won the 32 letter Morse code signaling in one minute and one second with no errors.

Each team entering the demonstrations of scout activities received points. A much greater variety of activity was evident. Two twenty foot signaling towers were erected, a bridge built, heliograph signaling, first aid, life saving, exaggerated knot tying, leather, copper and wood carving handicraft, cooking biscuits and hotcakes as in camp, and pitching camp were some of the sout work shown.

Jim Ricksecker Auburn No. 19 placed first in bugling. This event was judged by E. M. Hoyt of Fair Oaks of the Sacramento Scout council.

FIRE HOUSE NO. 2 MAY BE TURNED INTO MUSEUM

The city council meeting last evening informally discussed a proposal to turn the fire house on Broad street over to the Civic Club and the Native Daughters of this city to be used for museum and other purposes, following the completion of the new city hall. This new city hall is being built to accomodate both city and fire department activities, as well as the fire fighting equipment and the two fire houses will no longer be needed. Informally members of the board expressed their approval of the proposal, but action will probably be deferred until the city hall is completed.

The Native Daughters have accumulated a very fine collection of Nevada City and county articles of historical interest, but these are now stored in the public library where they are not often seen.

The council granted the request of the board of supervisors for the use of old water pipe that the city is discarding, amounting to as much as 700 feet. The request was made by E. B. Dudley, chairman of the board.

The council consented to sponsor the Scout hall which is to be erected in Pioneers park. The scout council now has nearly enough logs available for building the hall, and several hundred dollars in cash. It is hoped that with the city sponsoring the scout hall, the WPA authorities will assist by supplying at least the labor. The following bills were ordered paid:

A Criminal Complains

(Contributed)

"Alcatraz is awful—they never give a guy a break."

These are the words of the latest prisoner released from that fortress-like Federal prison on a little island just inside the Golden Gate. And the tendency of some persons to feel sorry for him and the other men behind those impenetrable gray stone walls is a little difficult to understand.

Certainly Alcatraz is no country club, with all the superior appointments of a Ritz-Carleton hotel. but even so there has yet come to light no evidence that treatment given criminals there is inhumane.

There are plenty of people who find that even an honest life is tough and is not altogether overflowing with good "breaks"—people who have not murdered or swindled someone.

Probably the thing that causes prisoners to complain more about Alcatraz than other institutions is the eternal silence of the place. Once inside its walls the criminal becomes nobody, just a number, and his photograph is no longer spread over front pages, as it might continue to be if he had been put in some other prison.

So long as prisoners leave the island penitentiary feeling they would not soon like to be back, and so long as the underworld fears it, Alcatraz will be accomplishing its purpose.

That's War For You

(Contributed)

Out of Addis Ababa the other day came a report telling about how an invincible army of Ethiopians had slaughtered numerous Italians to win a great victory on a certain battlefield.

On the same day came a report out of Rome telling about an invincible army of Italians had slaughtered numerous Ethiopians to win a great victory on a certain battlefield.

The puzzling part about it was that both dispatches were talking bout the same battle, on the same field.

That's war for you, a phenonenon that respects honesty no more than it does any other virtue. In all probability, we shall not know what has happened until the war is all over. As to all the intrigues and secret dealings behind the war, in that scarcely less insincere activity known as international politics, we shall probably not know the truth until it is put down in history books decades hence.

National politics is bad enough, what with one side calling any given event black and the other side calling it white. But the Ethiopian war is even more obscure. All we can say for sure now is that both sides are suffering defeat, as is the case in all wars.

As to the nominal victor—well, we'll know when it's over.

LAWYERS SCORED WHO ADVOCATE COMMUNISM

(By RALPH H. TAYLOR)

Since the federal government, through its hard-hitting and incorcuptible G-men, inaugurated its war of extermination against gangsterism in the United States, much has been accomplished in ridding the country not only of gangsters, but also in eliminating the crooked attorneys who constituted their first line of defense.

In most instances, the attorneys who fattened on corrupt practice and the protection of organized crime have been jailed, disbarred or driven to cover.

And no other factor has been of greater importance in breaking the hold of gangsters and racketeers. The underworld without its "mouthpiece" is a shadowy half-world, robbed of much of its arrogance.

In light of these circumstances, it is more than a little disconcerting to find the State Bar of California, in a somewhat comparable situation, defending the wrong element in the legal profession at the risk of incurring public distrust and disfavor of the bar as a whole.

The facts in the case are these:

Communists and the various Communistic organizations have incited strikes, riots and unrest among both the agricultural and industrial workers in California, causing heavy losses to agriculture and industry, and endangering the welfare of law-abiding workers as well as their employers.

Invariably these Communist agitators come into court defended by a small group of licensed attorneys, who, in many instances, not only defend their clients, but champion them and espouse their principles. As often as possible, the trial is made a Roman holiday to exploit the principles of Communism—with the attorney for the defense in the curious role of seeking to justify his client's crime, rather than to disprove it. Nor does the fiasco end there; when court is adjourned for the day, most of these communistic attorneys will be found delivering inflammatory speeches to communist gatherings.

The California Fruit Growers and Farmers Convention, held at Sacramento in December—knowing these facts and recognizing that such conditions were a menace not alone to agriulture, but the American government—adopted a resolution calling on the State Bar to disbar attorneys engaging in "such un-American activities."

And what was the result?

The State Bar declined to purge itself, saying among other things: "To be a known communist is not a crime (in the State of California)."

Apparently the members of the State Bar overlooked the fact that the Criminal Syndicalism Act makes it a crime knowingly to belong to any organization which advocates overthrow of the government by force and violence.

Every Communist agitator, as the bar well knows, advocates the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence. Not only that, but most of the communists' attorneys join in that advocacy.

Again the State Bar says, in effect, that every man—criminal or not—is entitled to be represented by an attorney.

But that is quibbling, as the State Bar must recognize. No one objects to a burglar or a murderer being represented by counsel; nor does anyone object to a communist having an attorney to plead his case.

But if the attorney for a burglar, or a murderer, sought to condone burglary, or murder, instead of defending his client, the bar would act without hesitation. Such an attorney would be disbarred. And the case in point is a direct parellel. The attorney who advocates communism violates his oath as an officer of the court; he ceases to be a defender and becomes an advocate of overthrow of government by fore and violence.

The State Bar should reconsider its decision—and the law-abiding members of the bar, who have a respect for public good will and public confidence—should demand such reconsideration.

Dr. W. W. Reed, who purchased the Brand property on upper Broad street several months ago, has had Steger and Sons employed for the last few days remodeling the interior of the building. Several partitions were torn out and a part of the building will be made into a surgery room and an office. It is expected he will be able to move into his new location in about a month.

S. P. EXPANSION PROGRAM MAKES MANY NEW JOBS

Average employment on Southern Pacific's Pacific Lines, serving six western states, has increased 10 per cent over the same period of last year, 3200 employes having been added to the company's rolls since that time.

This was announced today by A. D. McDonald, president, reporting results of the railroad's far-reaching improvement and expansion program, undertaken early in 1935 and now well under way. The payroll increase based on average employment in January, 1936, as compared with the same period last year, McDonald said, amounts to about $9,725,000 a year or nearly 18 per cent.

Establishment of new train service, both freight and passenger, together with air-conditioning and modernizing of passenger equipment, has been chiefly responsible for the substantial increase in the company's forces.

More than 1,000,000 passenger train miles have been added to the company's annual operations since January 1, this year, with an accompanying increase of $820,000 in operating expenses, according to the announcement

Purchase of new equipment, including 3000 refrigerator cars for the Pacific Fruit Express Company, jointly owned by Southern Pacific and Union Pacific, will give employment to thousands of workers in manufacturing plants. The new refrigerator cars alone are to cost more than $10,000,000

Air-conditioning and modernization of additional passenger cars by Southern Pacific for all of its lines, and by the Pullman Company for use by Southern Pacific this year, is costing about $2,000,000. This work it was stated, is progressing rapidly, in keeping with plans for delivery of the equipment prior to the opening of the summer travel season.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN WOODLAND

Clarence Bond, aged 51 years and a native of Nevada City passed away suddenly at his home in Woodland Wednesday following a heart attack he suffered last Sunday. Mr. Bond, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bond of this city attended the local schools, and moved to Woodland about 20 years ago where he had been in the employ of the P. G. & E. company. Genial and kindly his sudden death came as a shock to a wide circle of friends in this and in other communities where he lived.

Surviving him are: his wife, Mrs. Grace Bond, and the following sons and daughters, Geraldine, Clarence, Chester and "Snooky" of Woodland; two aunts, Mrs. Charles Ninnis and Mrs. Annie Hooper of Nevada City. Funeral services and burial took place in Woodland yesterday.

TWO RECOVERING FROM FALLS

Lewis Netz, who was injured in a fall with scaffolding at the Netz quarry at Nevada City's western limits Tuesday, is still confined to the Jones Memorial hospital in Grass Valley, getting along as well as can be expected. He received a badly fractured arm, deep cut in his back and bruises on his head. His brother, Alfred, who was also in the accident received a cut hand. Donald Joyal, who fell out of a tree Monday, broke bones in both forearms just above the wrists. The young men are patients of Dr. E. W. Hammelt of Nevada City.

All used radios thoroughly overhauled and guaranteed. The Harmony Shop, Grass Valley.

THOUSANDS NOT YET REGISTERED IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6—Hundreds of thousands of citizens in California, particularly in the north, are threatened with the loss of their votes in the May primaries, according to a survey of the registration facilities of the state's 58 counties, completed here today.

This survey, conducted by the Republican State Central Committee, shows that 6,818 additional deputies are being used to handle the complete re-registration of California coters. Of this number, 4,294 arein Los Angeles, leaving only 2,524 for the remaining 57 counties.

With only three weeks to go, about 1,500,000 voters are still unregistered. Officials say it will be a physical impossibility to handle the last hour rush. Lack of funds is declared to be hampering registration work in many counties.

Comments from county clerks state:

"We are continually making a drive for registration and it is necessary to have outside deputies. Otherwise many voters will not come a long distance to the court house. (No money provided for additional deputies in this county.)

"Important that correct registration be had. Board of Supervisors, like the federal government, believes in spending money every place except where it will do the most good."

Mauy voters are dissatisfied to be compelled to register again after voting for permanent registration.

"We have no money for the work. Clerk's salary is supposed to cover registration." (No money; no deputies in this county.)

"I believe registration deputies should be paid, then the county clerk could demand depnties to get everyone registered in each precinct at an early date. Without compensation deputies will not make a house to house canvass." (No money provided; no paid deputies in this county.)

"I feel that in justice to the voters it is imperative that enough deputies be appointed that a complete registration be effected."

"County clerk in this county must pay personally for registration."

"No money provided for additional or outside deputies."

"It is very important that an adequate number of deputies, be appointed and in some cases they should be paid for their efforts. No provision for this work mas made in this year's budget in this county." (Work being done by 26 voluntary deputies who are not being paid.)

Under the new California law all registrations were canceled on December 31, 1935 and all voters must re-register before March 26 to vote in the Presidential Primary Election May 5.

All used radios thoroughly overhauled and guaranteed. The Harmony Shop, Grass Valley.

DEER CREEK UNION PROPERTY

Considerable difficulty has been experienced from a heavy flow of water in the Deer Creek Union mine, shaft situated at the foot of Banner Mountain southeast of Nevada City. A 500 gallon per minute capacity pump has been purchased and is being installed, the work to be completed in a day or two when the winze will be unwatered and sinking will resume. Capt. George A. Niheli, who owns and is opening the property has held the ground since 1876.

MANY TONS OF FOOD GIVEN FOR STATE RELIEF

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The Commodity Distribution Division of the California SRA, which supplied relief clients with more than $11,500,000 worth of surplus supplies during 1935, this week was characterized by officials of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation as the oustanding organization of its kind in the United States.

In a letter to W. B. Jenkins, director of Commodity Distribution in this state, James E. Brickett, director of Commodity Destribution for the FSCC, declared that the results obtained in California have been of such outstanding nature that he will endeavor to induce every state in the country to adopt a similar program.

In a recent report to C. I. Schottland, acting SRA administrator, Jenkins declared that of the 31,800 tons of commodities distributed by his organization during 1935, more than one-third of the products were outright donations from farmers, the fruit growers and meat packers. They preferred conserving their surplus supplies by donating them to needy families to seeing their produce go to waste, said Jenkins. The remainder of the commodities were purchased through the FSCC to relieve an inactive market.

Basing his statement on figures compiled by his office for January of this year, Jenkins declared that his Division promises to become even more active during 1936 than it was last year. Reports from his office revealed that during the first month of this year a total of 468 tons of fresh vegetables and 80 tons of fresh fruits were received for distribution throughout the state.

Of the 468 tons of vegetables, approximately 50 per cent were donated while the remainder was grown of WPA projects.

BILLS IN HOUSE WOULD RESTRICT WORK OF ALIENS

A number of efforts have been made to solve the alien labor problem and to enact legislation which will discourage aliens from entering the United States illegally. H. R. 3602, introduced by Rep. Renry E. Stubbs, (Dem., Calif.), aims at the solution of both these problems along new lines. Apparently to avoid violating the 14th Amendment of the Federal Constitution and treaty relations with some countries, the bill makes the employment of aliens a "conspiracy against the military security and economic stability of the United States of America," and fixes penalties "for wilful and knowing violation" thereof.

The expressed purpose of the bill is, as stated, "the protection of citizens of military age, who are subject to conscription in time of war or invasion, by guaranteeing to them in times of peace an arbitrary preference over aliens for employment."

Section 2 provides that "it shall be illegal to employ any alien in any public or private employment, without express and special permission and authorization * * * while there are American citizens out of work and able and willing to work."

The bill defines an alien as "a person who is not a citizen of the United States of America and who is exempt from the * * * liabilities by treaty law and who may be liable to a foreign government for such services in some degree."

Provisions are made for the employment of aliens "when a shortage of citizen labor exists, or when a certain occupation or class of work is refused by citizens, or if no ictizens can be found capable of performing certain particular work," but the employer must first make such declaration through a federal board of conciliation and arbitration which the bill provides shall function under the U. S. Department of Labor.

Proponents of the measure hold that if this bill were enacted, it would either induce hundreds of thousands of aliens to become citizens or force them to return to their native lands. Those who are here illegally—estimated as low as 2,000,000 and as high as 4,000,000—would be deported. Millions of aliens in this country are just so many parasites. They displace the labor of native and natulalized citizens, and much of the proceeds of their labor is sent to their native countries. This sum is estimated at more than $300,000,000 annually. Furthermore, when these aliens, the total number of which is estimated at 8,000,000 are not employed they are for the most part a heavy burden on the taxpayers of the country.

Is it not time that the Federal Government should protect its citizens from this needless alien burden by enacting a rigid registration law, and either force aliens to become naturalized citizens or else deport them from the country?

The alien who does not appreciate the institutions and his economic advantages here enough to take steps to become a citizen deserves little consideration at the hands of our Government, and the alien who enters illegally deserves even less.

Other governments of the world conserve the interests of their nationals while those of U. S. citizens are imposed upon. This imposition is evidenced by the activities of Congressmen who oppose restrictive alien measures and who come from centers where the alien population is heavy, and by the trend of the political influence exerted by certain industrialists who are interested in keeping the labor scale at a minimum.

NAZIMOVA WILL PRESENT GHOSTS IN SACRAMENTO

Nazimova in Ibsen's "Ghosts" will be the featured event nert Monday night in the Sacramento season of legitimate stage productoins, following her successful two weeks engagement in San Francisco.

High praise was accorded Mme. Nazimova by San Francisco critics for her dual talents as actress and director. The effective stage pictures which she has arranged will be especially adapted to the small auditorium of the Roxie Theatre on 9th street, between I and J which is being renovated for the occasion.

Her choice of a supporting cast also contributes to the dramatic power of the play. McKay Morris, as Pastor Manders, formerly starred with Ethel Barrymore and Grace George, and Harry Ellerbe has been graduated from one of the popular juveniles of Broadway to the role of Oswald.

Ticket reservations can now be made through Ye Music Shoppe, 1014 10th Street, Sacramento. Prices range from $1.10 to $2.20, tax included. Mail orders given prompt attention.

Thru the Knot Hole

A Glimpse of Building Activity

VOL. 1. MARCH 6, 1936. No. 40.

Spring time is nature's time for rejuvenation. Make the "spring fever" this year a time of checking over your home and do something about that obsolete bath room and that inconvenient kitchen.

Our plan service and various sources of information are entirely at your disposal and we are more than anxious to cooperate with you.

Our old city hall is just a big hole in the ground now with, usually, an interested group of citizens watching the blasting and digging of the rock. The new building will be under construction in a very short time.

The warming up of the weather makes us think of summer days ahead and the advisability of getting our homes insulated against the heat. Palco redwood bark is one proven and inexpensive method of insulation. Carried in stock for you convenience.

All of the building trades are enjoying good activity at present, and a good season this summer is surely in sight. Better lay your plans now and not be disappointed.

OBITUARY PREMATURE

MEAD LAKE BACK OF BOULDER DAM BEGINS TO FILL

BOULDER CITY, March 4.—Gigantic Boulder Dam, engineering miracle of the 20th century, valued at more than $100,000,000 in construction costs alone, has become property of the United States government.

By a process almost devoid of ceremony the 7,000,000 ton wedge of concrete and steel, driven into the heart of Black Canyon of the Colorado river to pen irrigation waters for an empire twice as large as the New England states, passed into the hands of the federal government.

No pomp or speeches marked the change. By merely walking off the job Six Companies, Inc., combined construction firms that built the dam, completed their contract with the government.

The glistening concrete shell already has backed up raging currents of the Colorado for more than 60 miles into a lake that has been in the process of filling for more than a year since February 1, 1935, when four mammoth diversion tunnels were closed,

It is now the world's largest artificial lake, renamed Mead lake in honor of the late Elwood Mead, former chief of the federal bureau of reclamation, who was one of the original group who conceived the idea of a dam to impound the waters of the Colarod.

The present bulk of Mead lake is only one seventh the size it will be when flood waters have raised it to capacity—approximately 30,500,000 acre feet of water in a lake 115 miles long, which will provide power and irrigation for the states of California, Colorado and New Mexico.

Already the mighty slab of concrete has formed a bulwark against a threatened flood, and has prevented drought in the irrigated valleys along the lower Colorado, where a 1934 dry spell cost farmers more than $10,000,000.

Enough water will be stored in the big basin behind the dam to flood the state of Connecticut in ten feet of water. It will provide supplies for irrigating six states water water supplies for the city of Los Angeles, and power for California, Nevada and Arizona.

Power alone, which is the third most important function of the dam, will pay the cost of construction in 50 years, government engineers estimate.

HI LADS TURN FROM BASKET TO BASEBALL

Basketbal season is at an end as far as the Nevada City high Yellowjackets are concerned. This announcement was made yesterday by Coach B. C. Barron. Due to the amount of sickness in high schools, this week's game would have necessarily been postponed, and the extension of basketball season would interfere with spring training in baseball and track.

Grant Union has begun baseball and track practice, and the closing of the season was satisfactory to all schools involved. Casaba tossers will now become horsehide pelters and cinder eaters, and the eyes of the fans will be focused on the open field and the diamond.
